INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors of TransForm Shared Service Organization

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of TransForm Shared Service Organization (the Organization), which comprise:

- the statement of financial position as at March 31, 2019
- the statement of revenue and expenses for the year then ended
- the statement of cash flows for the year then ended
- and the notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies

(Hereinafter referred to as the “financial statements”)

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Organization as at March 31, 2019, and its results of operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Our responsibility under those standards are further described in the “Auditors’ Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements” section of our auditors’ report.

We are independent of the Organization in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Canada and we have fulfilled our other responsibilities in accordance with these requirements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibility of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Organization's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Organization or to cease operations or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Organization's financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists.

Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of the financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.

We also:

- Identify and assess the risk of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, internal omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purposes of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Organization's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to the events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Organization's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Organization's to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

TRANSFORM SHARED SERVICE ORGANIZATION

Notes to Financial Statements

(in thousands of dollars)

Year ended March 31, 2019

TransForm Shared Service Organization (“the Organization”) is a not-for-profit organization under the Income Tax Act and accordingly is exempt from income taxes, provided certain requirements of the Income Tax Act are met.

The objective of the Organization is to provide;

- i. Specialty Information Technology/Information Management (IT/IM) services;
- ii. Supply Chain and Specialized Contract services;
- iii. Project Management services to address local, regional and provincial health priorities and initiatives.

All divisions work with various health service providers and government officials to lead transformational change. Specifically all divisions are focused on providing value, improving the patient experience, achieving better health outcomes and utilizing health resources more effectively. All three divisions work to support their customers in the delivery of exceptional patient care by ensuring efficiencies, service excellence and cost savings. The Organization is currently owned by the five Erie St. Clair hospitals and is governed by a Board of Directors comprising of senior executives from each hospital, namely: Bluewater Health, Chatham-Kent Health Alliance, Hôtel-Dieu Grace Healthcare, Erie Shores HealthCare and Windsor Regional Hospital as well as up to five independent Directors.

Services are provided to member organizations at rates designed to reflect the costs and expenses incurred by the Corporation in the normal course of business. Annual operating expenses are to be allocated to the members based primarily on the public sector funding provided to each member as of the most recent fiscal year end. Any surplus of revenue over expenses is to be retained by the Corporation for provision of future services. Any deficiency of revenue over expenses is recoverable from the individual members in accordance with the allocation formula previously described. Additional funds for capital projects or additional expenses outside the annual operating plan are shared based on the number of users impacted by these projects at each member hospital.

(in thousands of dollars)

Year ended March 31, 2019

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards.

1. Significant accounting policies:

(a) Revenue recognition:

The Organization follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions which include government contributions.

Operating contributions are recorded as revenue in the period to which they relate. Contributions approved but not received at the end of an accounting period are accrued. Where a portion of a contribution relates to a future period, it is deferred and recognized in that subsequent period.

Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured.

Investment income on unspent deferred contributions, if restricted for future use, is deferred as a component of such contributions.

Externally restricted contributions are recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenses are incurred.

(b) Inventory

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value, with cost being determined on a weighted average basis. Inventory consists of medical supplies that are distributed for home and community care.

(c) Capital assets:

Capital assets are recorded at cost and amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives, at the following rates:

Asset	Rate
Computer hardware & software - capital leases	over the life of the lease, up to 5 years
Computer software licences & software development	3 to 5 years
Computer hardware	5 years
Furniture, fixtures & equipment	10 years
Leasehold improvements	over the life of the lease, 5 years

1. Significant accounting policies (continued):

(d) Deferred capital contributions:

The Organization records deferred capital contributions using the deferral method. Deferred capital contributions are amortized on the straight-line basis over the estimated useful life of the corresponding capital asset acquired.

(e) Financial instruments:

Financial instruments are recorded at fair value on initial recognition. Freestanding derivative instruments that are not in a qualifying hedging relationship and equity instruments that are quoted in an active market are subsequently measured at fair value. All other financial instruments are subsequently recorded at cost or amortized cost, unless management has elected to carry the instruments at fair value. The Organization has not elected to carry any such financial instruments at fair value.

Transaction costs incurred on the acquisition of financial instruments measured subsequently at fair value are expensed as incurred. All other financial instruments are adjusted by transaction costs incurred on acquisition and financing costs, which are amortized using the straight-line method.

Financial assets are assessed for impairment on an annual basis at the end of the fiscal year if there are indicators of impairment. If there is an indicator of impairment, the Organization determines if there is a significant adverse change in the expected amount or timing of future cash flows from the financial asset. If there is a significant adverse change in the expected cash flows, the carrying value of the financial asset is reduced to the highest of the present value of the expected cash flows, the amount that could be realized from selling the financial asset or the amount the Organization expects to realize by exercising its right to any collateral. If events and circumstances reverse in a future period, an impairment loss will be reversed to the extent of the improvement, not exceeding the initial carrying value.

(f) Capital disclosure:

The Organization considers its capital to be its deferred contributions, deferred contributions related to capital assets and unrestricted net assets. The Organization's primary objective of capital management is to ensure that it has sufficient resources to continue to provide the full continuum of supply chain and IT/IM services. Annual budgets are developed and monitored to ensure the Organization's capital is maintained at an appropriate level.

4. Unearned revenue:

TransForm collects funds from member hospitals and other funders for future purposes including funding of project related resources and holds funds on account for future years' utilization generated from net surpluses within day-to-day operations and third party project activity.
